

Visa Requirements for Cruises to Australia

All guests require an Australian visa to go on any cruise that visits ports in Australia. Any guest who does not possess the Australian visa BEFORE the cruise will be denied boarding and cannot sail. The only exception to this rule is for guests with an Australian or New Zealand passport. No visas will be issued upon arrival. Please note that these policies are subject to change at a moment's notice, so all guests should check the visa requirements for their nationalities with an Australian embassy or consulate.

There are 3 types of Australian visas that guests will require depending on their nationality. Below are the details of which nationalities can apply for each visa.

Electronic Travel Authority (ETA) Visa

Guests from the below nationalities are eligible for the ETA visa. These guests need to apply online before the cruise. The cost of this visa is $20 AUD. For more information, visit <http://www.border.gov.au/>.
